

Other Services

Small Details, Big Impact

You've paved, sealed and marked, but your new asphalt isn't finished until it's ready for daily use – safely and properly.

That's where Ace Asphalt's finishing services come into play. From utility adjustments to reflectors, signage, sweeping and speed bumps, we have a full range of additional services designed to ensure your new surface isn't just durable, but also ready for people to drive, walk, run or park on it every day.

Make your new pavement stand up – and stand out. Contact us to find out how we can incorporate these services in a larger project.

Benefits

Improved Safety: These services help keep you safer by not only eliminating unnecessary tripping hazards, but also providing proper traffic control.

Aesthetic Appeal: These services bring an attractive and professional appearance to any pavement surface.

Application

During the paving process, existing utility markers encompassed with a roadway or parking lot often need adjustment. These markers (such as manholes or water valves) flush with the old surface are lowered during the demolition phase for protection and unhindered use of the paving equipment. Once paving is complete, the markers are raised to the new surface level and a concrete ring is added. Speed bumps/humps/tables, signage and reflectors can also be installed during this time for proper traffic control and improved safety.

Sweeping the dust and debris from your asphalt and concrete pavement is an important step during any phase of your project. Many of our maintenance projects require a clean slate before we get started. And of course, cleaning up after our work is complete shows how much we value your property and our reputation.
